

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

JOSEPH JULIANO,
#94100

Plaintiff,

vs.

CLARK COUNTY DETENTION
CENTER, et al.,

Defendants.

2:12-cv-02160-RCJ-VCF

ORDER

Plaintiff, who is a prisoner in the custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections, has filed a complaint in state court, which defendants have removed. It appears from the documents and the removal statement that removal to federal court was proper.

I. Plaintiff's Motion for Appointment of Counsel

Plaintiff has filed a motion seeking the appointment of counsel in this case (ECF #10). A litigant in a civil rights action does not have a Sixth Amendment right to appointed counsel. Storseth v. Spellman, 654 F.2d 1349, 1353 (9th Cir. 1981). In very limited circumstances, federal courts are empowered to request an attorney to represent an indigent civil litigant. The circumstances in which a court will make such a request, however, are exceedingly rare, and the court will make the request under only extraordinary circumstances. United States v. 30.64 Acres of Land, 795 F.2d 796, 799-800 (9th Cir. 1986); Wilborn v. Escalderon, 789 F.2d 1328, 1331 (9th Cir. 1986).

A finding of such exceptional circumstances requires that the court evaluate both the 1 likelihood of success on the merits and the plaintiff's ability to articulate his claims in pro se in light of 2 the complexity of the legal issues involved. Neither factor is dispositive, and both must be viewed 3 together in making a finding. Terrell v. Brewer, 935 F.2d 1015, 1017 (9th Cir. 1991)(citing Wilborn, 4 supra, 789 F.2d at 1331). The district court has considerable discretion in making these findings. The 5 court will not enter an order directing the appointment of counsel. While, as discussed below, plaintiff's 6 complaint will be dismissed with leave to amend, the legal issues do not appear complex, and it appears 7 to the court at this time that plaintiff will be able to articulate his claims in pro se if he elects to file an 8 amended complaint. Plaintiff's motion for the appointment of counsel is denied without prejudice.

9           The court now turns to the complaint, which it has screened pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 10 1915A.

11 II. Screening Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A

12           Federal courts must conduct a preliminary screening in any case in which a prisoner seeks 13 redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. See 28 U.S.C. § 14 1915A(a). In its review, the court must identify any cognizable claims and dismiss any claims that are 15 frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted or seek monetary relief from 16 a defendant who is immune from such relief. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se pleadings, 17 however, must be liberally construed. Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007); Hebbe v. Pliler, 627 18 F.3d 338, 342 (9th Cir. 2010); Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d. 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1988).
 19 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements: (1) that a right 20 secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation 21 was committed by a person acting under color of state law. See West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

22           In addition to the screening requirements under § 1915A, pursuant to the Prison Litigation 23 Reform Act of 1995 (PLRA), a federal court must dismiss a prisoner's claim, "if the allegation of 24 poverty is untrue," or if the action "is frivolous or malicious, fails to state a claim on which relief may 25 be granted, or seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief." 28 U.S.C.
 26 § 1915(e)(2). Dismissal of a complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted is

1 provided in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6), and the court applies the same standard under 2 § 1915 when reviewing the adequacy of a complaint or an amended complaint. When a court dismisses 3 a complaint under § 1915(e), the plaintiff should be given leave to amend the complaint with directions 4 as to curing its deficiencies, unless it is clear from the face of the complaint that the deficiencies could 5 not be cured by amendment. See Cato v. United States, 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir. 1995).

6 Review under Rule 12(b)(6) is essentially a ruling on a question of law. See Chappel v.
7 Laboratory Corp. of America, 232 F.3d 719, 723 (9th Cir. 2000). Dismissal for failure to state a claim 8 is proper only if it is clear that the plaintiff cannot prove any set of facts in support of the claim that 9 would entitle him or her to relief. See Morley v. Walker, 175 F.3d 756, 759 (9th Cir. 1999). In making 10 this determination, the court takes as true all allegations of material fact stated in the complaint, and the 11 court construes them in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. See Warshaw v. Xoma Corp., 74 F.3d 12 955, 957 (9th Cir. 1996). Allegations of a pro se complainant are held to less stringent standards than 13 formal pleadings drafted by lawyers. See Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9 (1980); Haines v. Kerner, 404
14 U.S. 519, 520 (1972) (per curiam); Hebbe, 627 F.3d at 342. While the standard under Rule 12(b)(6) 15 does not require detailed factual allegations, a plaintiff must provide more than mere labels and 16 conclusions. Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 127 S.Ct. 1955, 1964-65 (2007). A formulaic recitation 17 of the elements of a cause of action is insufficient. Id., see Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286 (1986).

18 Additionally, a reviewing court should “begin by identifying pleadings [allegations] that, 19 because they are no more than mere conclusions, are not entitled to the assumption of truth.” Ashcroft 20 v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1950 (2009). “While legal conclusions can provide the framework of a 21 complaint, they must be supported with factual allegations.” Id. “When there are well-pleaded factual 22 allegations, a court should assume their veracity and then determine whether they plausibly give rise to 23 an entitlement to relief. Id. “Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief [is] a 24 context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common 25 sense.” Id.

1 Finally, all or part of a complaint filed by a prisoner may therefore be dismissed sua
 2 sponte if the prisoner's claims lack an arguable basis either in law or in fact. This includes claims based 3 on legal conclusions that are untenable (e.g., claims against defendants who are immune from suit or 4 claims of infringement of a legal interest which clearly does not exist), as well as claims based on 5 fanciful factual allegations (e.g., fantastic or delusional scenarios). See Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S.
 6 319, 327-28 (1989); see also McKeever v. Block, 932 F.2d 795, 798 (9th Cir. 1991).

7 III. Instant Complaint

8 Plaintiff, who is incarcerated at High Desert State Prison ("HDSP") has sued Clark 9 County Detention Center ("CCDC"), the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, Clark County
 10 Sheriff Douglas Gillespie, Naphcare, Naphcare's medical director Dr. Newman, and Does 1-20. Plaintiff 11 claims that when he was a pretrial detainee at CCDC defendants were deliberately indifferent to his 12 serious medical needs in violation of his Eighth Amendment rights.

13 Plaintiff alleges that CCDC medical personnel were deliberately indifferent to his serious 14 medical needs when they failed to properly treat his serious pain and infections and other issues 15 stemming from a serious gunshot wound that he sustained prior to his arrest. He also alleges he was 16 denied necessary physical therapy.

17 Such claims by pretrial detainees are analyzed under the Due Process Clause of the 18 Fourteenth Amendment. Frost v. Agnos, 152 F.3d 1124, 1128 (9th Cir.1998). The same standard 19 applies to a pretrial detainee's claim of deliberate indifference under the Fourteenth Amendment as to 20 a prisoner's claim under the Eighth Amendment. Id. The Eighth Amendment prohibits the imposition 21 of cruel and unusual punishments and "embodies broad and idealistic concepts of dignity, civilized 22 standards, humanity and decency." Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 102 (1976). A detainee or prisoner's 23 claim of inadequate medical care does not constitute cruel and unusual punishment unless the 24 mistreatment rises to the level of "deliberate indifference to serious medical needs." Id. at 106. The 25 "deliberate indifference" standard involves an objective and a subjective prong. First, the alleged 26 deprivation must be, in objective terms, "sufficiently serious." Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 834

1 (1994) (citing Wilson v. Seiter, 501 U.S. 294, 298 (1991)). Second, the prison official must act with a 2 “sufficiently culpable state of mind,” which entails more than mere negligence, but less than conduct 3 undertaken for the very purpose of causing harm. Farmer, 511 U.S. at 837. A prison official does not 4 act in a deliberately indifferent manner unless the official “knows of and disregards an excessive risk 5 to inmate health or safety.” Id.

6 In applying this standard, the Ninth Circuit has held that before it can be said that a 7 prisoner’s civil rights have been abridged, “the indifference to his medical needs must be substantial.
 8 Mere ‘indifference,’ ‘negligence,’ or ‘medical malpractice’ will not support this cause of action.”
 9 Broughton v. Cutter Laboratories, 622 F.2d 458, 460 (9th Cir. 1980), citing Estelle, 429 U.S. at 105-06.
 10 “[A] complaint that a physician has been negligent in diagnosing or treating a medical condition does 11 not state a valid claim of medical mistreatment under the Eighth Amendment. Medical malpractice does 12 not become a constitutional violation merely because the victim is a prisoner.” Estelle v. Gamble, 429 13 U.S. at 106; see also Anderson v. County of Kern, 45 F.3d 1310, 1316 (9th Cir. 1995); McGuckin v.
 14 Smith, 974 F.2d 1050, 1050 (9th Cir. 1992) (overruled on other grounds), WMX Techs., Inc. v. Miller, 15 104 F.3d 1133, 1136 (9th Cir. 1997)(en banc). Even gross negligence is insufficient to establish 16 deliberate indifference to serious medical needs. See Wood v. Housewright, 900 F.2d 1332, 1334 (9th 17 Cir. 1990). A prisoner’s mere disagreement with diagnosis or treatment does not support a claim of 18 deliberate indifference. Sanchez v. Vild, 891 F.2d 240, 242 (9th Cir. 1989).

19 Delay of, or interference with, medical treatment can also amount to deliberate 20 indifference. See Jett v. Penner, 439 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2006); Clement v. Gomez, 298 F.3d 898, 21 905 (9th Cir. 2002); Hallett v. Morgan, 296 F.3d 732, 744 (9th Cir. 2002); Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 22 1131 (9th Cir. 1996); Jackson v. McIntosh, 90 F.3d 330, 332 (9th Cir. 1996); McGuckin v. Smith, 974 F.2d 23 1050, 1059 (9th Cir. 1992) overruled on other grounds by WMX Techs., Inc. v. Miller, 104 F.3d 1133, 24 (9th Cir. 1997) (en banc); Hutchinson v. United States, 838 F.2d 390, 394 (9th Cir. 1988). Where the 25 prisoner is alleging that delay of medical treatment evinces deliberate indifference, however, the prisoner 26 must show that the delay led to further injury. See Hallett, 296 F.3d at 745-46; McGuckin, 974 F.2d at 1 1060; Shapley v. Nev. Bd. Of State Prison Comm'rs, 766 F.2d 404, 407 (9th Cir. 1985) (per curiam).

2 Plaintiff's complaint suffers from several defects and must be dismissed. He will, 3 however, be given leave to file an amended complaint, as discussed below.

4 First, while plaintiff has named the physical detention center CCDC as a defendant, the 5 detention center itself is not a "person" acting under the color of state law for purposes of § 1983 actions.
6 42 U.S.C. § 1983; see also Howlett v. Rose, 496 U.S. 356, 365 (1990).

7 Next, plaintiff alleges only that unidentified CCDC/Naphcare medical personnel have 8 failed to treat his pain, infections and other complications from a gunshot wound in violation of his 9 Eighth Amendment rights. This court finds that the claims are so vague that it is unable to determine 10 whether the current action is frivolous or fails to state a claim for relief. Plaintiff must describe who 11 specifically was deliberately indifferent to what specific serious medical needs and what precisely the 12 defendant did or failed to do. The Civil Rights Act provides:

13 Every person who, under color of [state law] . . . subjects, or causes to 14 be subjected, any citizen of the United States. . . to the deprivation of any 15 rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution. . . shall be 16 liable to the party injured in an action at law, suit in equity, or other 17 proper proceeding for redress. 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

18 The statute plainly requires that there be an actual connection or link between the actions of the 19 defendants and the deprivation alleged to have been suffered by plaintiff. See Monell v. Department 20 of Social Services, 436 U.S. 658 (1978); Rizzo v. Goode, 423 U.S. 362 (1976). The Ninth Circuit has 21 held that "[a] person 'subjects' another to the deprivation of a constitutional right, within the meaning 22 of section 1983, if he does an affirmative act, participates in another's affirmative acts or omits to 23 perform an act which he is legally required to do that causes the deprivation of which complaint is 24 made." Johnson v. Duffy, 588 F.2d 740, 743 (9th Cir. 1978).

25 Further, plaintiff appears to name defendants Gillespie and Newman in their capacity as 26 supervisors. "Liability under [§] 1983 arises only upon a showing of personal participation by the defendant. A supervisor is only liable for the constitutional violations of . . . subordinates if the supervisor participated in or directed the violations, or knew of the violations and failed to act to prevent

1 them. There is no respondeat superior liability under [§] 1983.” Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 2 (9th Cir. 1989).

3 In Starr v. Baca, 633 F.3d 1191 (9th Cir. 2011), the Ninth Circuit reversed the district 4 court’s dismissal of a supervisory liability claim asserted against the sheriff of a jail. In that case, the 5 plaintiff claimed that he was attacked and stabbed twenty-three times by other inmates because prison 6 officials, including the sheriff, failed to protect him in violation of the Eighth and Fourteenth 7 Amendments. Id. at 1193-94. After reviewing plaintiff’s allegations, the court found that the plaintiff 8 alleged with sufficient detail that the sheriff knew or should have known about the dangers in the jail, 9 and that he was deliberately indifferent to those dangers. Id. at 1205. In reaching its conclusion, the 10 court held that “where the applicable constitutional standard is deliberate indifference, a plaintiff may 11 state a claim for supervisory liability based upon the supervisor’s knowledge of and acquiescence in 12 unconstitutional conduct by others.” Id. at 1196. The court stated that “[a] defendant may be held liable 13 as a supervisor under § 1983 ‘if there exists either (1) his or her personal involvement in the 14 constitutional deprivation, or (2) a sufficient causal connection between the supervisor’s wrongful 15 conduct and the constitutional violation.’” Id. at 1197 (quoting Hansen v. Black, 885 F.2d 642, 646 (9th 16 Cir. 1989)). A plaintiff can establish the necessary causal connection for supervisory liability by alleging 17 that the defendant “set[] in motion a series of acts by others” or “knowingly refus[ed] to terminate a 18 series of acts by others, which the supervisor knew or reasonably should have known would cause others 19 to inflict a constitutional injury.” Id. (internal quotations, alterations, and citations omitted). Thus, “[a] 20 supervisor can be liable in his individual capacity for his own culpable action or inaction in the training, 21 supervision, or control of his subordinates; for his acquiescence in the constitutional deprivation; or for 22 conduct that showed a reckless or callous indifference to the rights of others.” Id. (quoting Watkins v.
23 City of Oakland, 145 F.3d 1087, 1093 (9th Cir. 1998)).

24 Because plaintiff’s allegations may implicate his constitutional rights, he has leave to file 25 an amended complaint. If plaintiff elects to proceed in this action by filing an amended complaint, he 26 is advised that he should specifically identify each defendant to the best of his ability, clarify what

1 constitutional right he believes each defendant has violated and support each claim with factual
2 allegations about each defendant's actions. Again, there can be no liability under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 3 unless there is some affirmative link or connection between a defendant's actions and the claimed 4 deprivation. Rizzo, 423 U.S. 362; May v. Enomoto, 633 F.2d 164, 167 (9th Cir. 1980); Johnson, 588 F.2d 5 at 743. Plaintiff's claims must be set forth in short and plain terms, simply, concisely and directly. See 6 Swierkeiwicz v. Sorema N.A., 534 U.S. 506, 514 (2002); Fed. R. Civ. P. 8.

7 Plaintiff is informed that the court cannot refer to a prior pleading in order to make 8 plaintiff's amended complaint complete. Local Rule 15-1 requires that an amended complaint be 9 complete in itself without reference to any prior pleading. This is because, as a general rule, an amended 10 complaint supersedes the original complaint. See Loux v. Rhay, 375 F.2d 55, 57 (9th Cir. 1967). Once 11 plaintiff files an amended complaint, the original pleading no longer serves any function in the case.
12 Therefore, in an amended complaint, as in an original complaint, each claim and the involvement of each 13 defendant must be sufficiently alleged.

14 Finally, as this court has screened the complaint and dismissed it with leave to amend 15 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a), defendants' motion to dismiss (ECF #6) is premature. As such, the 16 motion is denied without prejudice. Plaintiff's motion for extension of time to oppose the motion to 17 dismiss (ECF #9) is denied as moot.

18 IV. Conclusion

19 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the Clerk shall DETACH and FILE the 20 complaint (ECF #1-1).

21 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff's complaint is DISMISSED WITH 22 LEAVE TO AMEND.

23 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff will have thirty (30) days from the date that 24 this order is entered to file his amended complaint, if he believes he can correct the noted deficiencies.
25 The amended complaint must be a complete document in and of itself, and will supersede the original 26 complaint in its entirety. Any allegations, parties, or requests for relief from prior papers that are not

1 carried forward in the amended complaint will no longer be before the court.

2 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff shall clearly title the amended complaint
3 as such by placing the words "FIRST AMENDED" immediately above "Civil Rights Complaint 4 Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983" on page 1 in the caption, and plaintiff shall place the case number, 2:12-5 CV-02160-RCJ-VCF, above the words "FIRST AMENDED" in the space for "Case No."

6 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff is expressly cautioned that if he does not 7 timely file an amended complaint in compliance with this order, this case may be immediately 8 dismissed.

9 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk shall send to plaintiff a blank section 1983 10 civil rights complaint form with instructions along with one copy of the original complaint.

11 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff's motion for appointment of counsel (ECF 12 #10) is DENIED without prejudice.

13 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that defendants' motion to dismiss (ECF #6) is DENIED 14 without prejudice.

15 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff's motion for extension of time (ECF #9) 16 is DENIED as moot.
